

Sharing Session on Automotive

Malaysia is home to a robust luxury car market, proudly ranking third in automotive sales within the ASEAN region. To foster the growth of the automotive industry in Malaysia, Sukri Masika plans to present an engaging seminar for students in the engineering field.

Sukri Masika, currently a Technical Manager at Bentley Motors in the United Kingdom, oversees the whole vehicle level requirements for battery electric vehicles. With a rich background in mechanical design, technical project management and systems engineering, he specialises in the development of safety-critical automotive electric power steering systems.

This event aims to provide participants with valuable insights into the automotive industry, encouraging exploration of the diverse career opportunities available in this dynamic field.
